

It Is Not Yet Settled.

Some Dissatisfaction Exists Over the London Strike.

THE DOCK COMPANIES PROTEST.

They Claim That the Strikers Refuse to Submit to the Terms of Agreement and Appeal to Cardinal Manning and the Lord Mayor—Other Foreign News.

LONDON, Sept. 19.—The directors of the dock companies have sent a protest to Cardinal Manning and the lord mayor, pointing out the cases of violence on the part of the strikers since the agreement for the settlement of the strike was arrived at, and stating that a number of the men are refusing to submit to the terms of the agreement. The directors ask the cardinal and the lord mayor to use their influence in the interest of peace.

Cardinal Manning and the lord mayor held a conference with the dock directors' committee yesterday afternoon with reference to the complaints made by the directors that the strikers had not kept their agreement. The cardinal promised the directors to exert the strikers to observe the agreement under which the strike was settled and particularly that the clause binding them not to molest the "blacklegs." The cardinal also said that the lord mayor and himself would issue a proclamation to the men warning them against rioting.

M. Eiffel toasted the sovereignty of the various countries represented, and said: "An especial sympathy draws us towards Russia. We applaud Russian work in the civilization of Asia, which the railway built by Gen. Arsenoff has so large a part in promoting."

M. Kautzoff, responding for the Russians, received ovation, cries of "Vive la Russie," and "Vive la France" mingling in the cheering. M. Kautzoff, in the course of his remarks, declared that Russian science owed its chief inspiration to France.

In speaking to the toast he said the army had every confidence in the war minister. M. De Freycinet, in response, spoke of the patriotism of the officers and soldiers and said the country had every confidence in them.

The Spanish government will make an immediate demand to the Sultan of Morocco that the prisoners be restored to liberty.

Play Fought in D.C.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Sept. 19.—A special from Jasper says that on Tuesday night three negro gangsters entered a camping car near there, where a gang of railroad construction men were sleeping, and demanded a large sum of money. This being declined, they began to play a game of cards. They finally left the car and fired upon it with rifles and revolvers. Sidney Thomas, one of the railroad men, was killed, and three other men seriously injured, one probably fatally. Bill Outen, one of the negroes, is under arrest. Tom Rush and Charles Peak escaped.

Arrested for Burning a Church.

BALTIMORE, Md., Sept. 19.—The News special from Annapoe, Va., says: John Barton, who was arrested today, charged with arson. The church at Belhaven was burned Saturday. Barton had collected a considerable sum of money for improvements to the office, which he says was lost in the fire. It is supposed that Barton set the church on fire to tramp up an excuse for not turning over the money to the trustees.

ANOTHER DAM LETS GO,

And Considerable Damage is Done, But Nothing in the Nature of a Calamity. Reading, Pa., Sept. 19.—The large dam at Springtown Forge, eight miles above Coatesville, burst during the night, owing to the continued heavy rain, and this morning the Brandywine creek had risen to an alarming height. Hundreds of fields were a dreary waste of water.

Many farmers and their families left their houses during the night and remained on the neighboring hills. The Wilmington and Northern railroad is not open between this city and Wilmington. Many miles of fences have been carried away, and on a number of farms everything not in buildings was carried away. The damage amounts to many thousands of dollars. At one time the Brandywine creek was eighteen feet above its usual height.

OHIO STATE TELEGRAMS.

VARIOUS HAPPENINGS IN DIFFERENT PARTS OF THE STATE.

The Ill-Fated Yacht Leo Undoubtedly Lost on Lake Erie—Two of the Bodies Washed Ashore—Searching for the Other Victims—Other State News.

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 19.—That the steam yacht Leo, which sailed from Lorain for this port Sunday, was lost in a storm is certain. The Leo had nine on board and all perished. Since yesterday afternoon the beach in the western part of the city has been patrolled by two life saving crew and citizens. Two bodies were washed up. They were the battered remains of Con P. Ritter and R. D. Lawler, the latter a well known young lawyer. The beach at the point where the bodies came ashore is but a narrow strip of sand backed by a high bluff and the heavy seas now rolling make it almost impossible for the searchers to venture down on the shore. In Lorain there is sorrow and desolation for the Leo's passengers were prominent men. The little town has sent out a large number of men to aid in the weary search. The Leo was a steam yacht about forty-five feet long. She was last seen about a half mile from shore at 7:30 Sunday night.

ODD FELLOWS PARADE.

Twenty Thousand Men in Line and a Very Impressive Affair.

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 19.—The grand parade of the I. O. O. F. and Patriarchal Militant yesterday afternoon, was two and a half hours in passing, and the number of men in line exceeded 20,000, being divided into three divisions with a large military array, among whom were the Montgomery, Ala. Grays, Loyola Legion, 200, of Louisville, and Toledo Cadets. It was the grandest demonstration in numbers and color this order ever had in America.

Last night the conferring of the "Decoration of Chivalry" took place at the city hall, followed by a grand ball in honor of the Sovereign Grand lodge.

The daughters of Rebekah perfected a National permanent organization. The following officers were chosen: President, Mrs. M. E. Bea, of Missouri; vice president, Louise B. Pifer, of Montana; conductor, Nellie Anton, of Ohio; guardians, Miss Eric Page, of Washington City, and Mrs. Elizabeth Mary, of Michigan.

Declined to Go into the League.

BALTIMORE, Sept. 19.—The News will publish a story that the Cincinnati base ball club will return to the League, and Cincinnati will have a fifty cent admission as formerly. One reason for this is that the law against Sunday base ball is enforced in Cincinnati, and so a club in the Association cannot have an additional revenue from this source. Another reason is the poor showing of the club. The League will buy out the Indianapolis franchise and Stern will get it, though he is obliged to use some of the Indianapolis timber. This story is believed to be true.

Killed on a Railroad Crossing.

CHICAGO, Sept. 19.—Frank Hansen, of Avondale, Ill., and a companion, name unknown, were instantly killed about 9 o'clock last night, at the Belmont avenue crossing of the Northwestern road, in Gross park. They were driving west in a sulky and for some reason failed to see the southbound passenger train. Their horse was squarely on the track when the train struck them. The horse was instantly killed, the sulky smashed and the bodies of the men hurled at least a hundred feet from the crossing.

Building War Vessels.

Such Work Will Hereafter Be Done by the Government.

IT IS SO DECIDED BY MR. TRACY.

The Bids of Private Parties Do Not Come Within the Limits of the Appropriation—Designs for the New Postal Cards—Other Dispatches from Washington.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—Secretary Tracy has made a decision that will have an important bearing on the future building of war vessels for the United States navy. He decided to have the two 3,000-ton steel cruisers provided for by the last congress, constructed at the New York and Norfolk navy yards.

When bids for these two vessels were opened at the navy department last month the bids offered exceeded by large amounts the congressional appropriations. The navy department found itself in something of a dilemma. It could not accept the bids and it could not afford to wait until congress could take action. So Secretary Tracy invited suggestions from ship-building firms, asking them to give opinions as to possible changes in the plans of the vessels to bring the cost of their construction within the appropriation and yet not impair the standard required.

Cramp & Sons, of Philadelphia, found that they could construct the vessel, with some changes, at an amount of $40,000 below their original bid. This reduced amount, however, was greater than the appropriation, and the secretary came to the forced conclusion that the vessels could not be built at private yards.

Speaking of the matter to a United Press reporter he said: "After a careful study of the law relating to these vessels, I find that after other means have failed, I am told in language almost in the nature of a command to build them at government yards, and this I have decided to do."

The hull of one of the vessels will be built at Norfolk, and that of the other at New York. The machinery of both vessels will be built at New York, while the boilers of each will be made at the place where each vessel is being constructed. Work will probably begin early in the spring. Of the other vessels to be built in the near future it is almost certain that one will go to the Mare Island yard.

Designs for Postal Cards.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—Postmaster General Wainwright has invited proposals from artists, designers and others for improved designs of postal cards. The designs should be according to the artist's idea of fitness and bidders can submit one or more designs as they see fit. Drawing in detail of designs must be submitted with bids, which are to be opened in the office of the third assistant postmaster general at noon on Wednesday, Nov. 6.

The designs may be made either with or without border, and if with border, the border may be either plain or ornate. The postal cards for which the designs are intended are of two sizes, 2 1/2 by 3 1/2 inches by 4 1/2 inches, and 3 1/2 by 4 1/2 inches. Blank forms of proposals with specifications containing information can be had by applying to the office of the third assistant postmaster general.

Brilliant Newspaper Men.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—A dispatch from Deer Park quoting a friend of the president is saying that Maj. William Warner may accept the position of commissioner of pensions gains no credit here. Maj. Warner told the president that his reason for declining was that he had many certain business engagements which he felt in honor bound to fill. He recommended the appointment of Maj. George S. Merrill, of Massachusetts, and he left Deer Park with the impression that the place would be tendered to Maj. Merrill. The president is naturally anxious that Maj. Warner's position should not be made public until the vacant place has been filled. Every effort was made to conceal the fact that the position had been offered Maj. Warner, a fact first published in the dispatches of the United Press.

A Minister's Meeting.

WILKESBORO, Pa., Sept. 19.—Ministers from all parts of Pennsylvania, Ohio, Wisconsin, New York, Iowa and Minnesota are present here to attend the tenth convention of the Welsh Presbyterian churches of the United States. Killed by Falling Stone.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Sept. 19.—Two men were killed and five others severely injured by a falling stone in one of the mines of the Kankakee company, near Gensco, Monday night. The seven men were at work in slope No. 1 when the mass of slate fell, burying them quickly. Their associates, after several hours work, rescued five of the men, but the others were dead long before their bodies were reached. The killed are: John Reid and George Davis.

THE PARIS EXPOSITION.

It May Become a Permanent Institution. Some Curious Toys.

PARIS, Sept. 19.—The exposition is too good a thing to be confined to its original limits. Its success has surpassed all expectation, and the shopkeepers of Paris are loath to let it go. The proposal now is that it shall remain a permanent institution of the country and the world. Once a year it is proposed that there shall be a world's fair for a month or more. It is entirely possible that the Paris fair may become a recognized institution of Europe to which all the world will resort.

While the great world is occupied with games of politics and money making and intrigue, the child world of Europe is fairly wild over the display of toys at the exposition. The prettiest scene at that vast establishment is that in which one hears the perpetual ripple of childish laughter and observes the innumerable signs of childish delight at the wondrous ingenuity of the display. Everybody has seen the toy soldiers, but whoever before saw a toy army in which every soldier really march on his own legs, and in which real attacks and defenses are conducted until the rattling discharge of real guns? Toy ships are common enough, but who ever before saw a toy fleet of ironclads and torpedo boats actually maneuvering as if engaged in a real battle?

It is something to see a Lilliputian creature stretch out her arms to the visitor with a smile as if to ask her to become the mother of an orphan doll. It is funny to see the poupee deliberately take a hand glass, carefully inspect her fringe and smooth her hair, smile complacently and then, as she lays the glass down, throw a kiss to the audience with her delicate fingers.

The toy boy grows up badly. One is an inveterate smoker of cigarettes. He not only smokes but he draws in his own lips, lights it, draws in a deep inspiration, and then thoroughly enjoying the aroma, and that slowly expels the smoke in graceful curls around his own exquisitely curled hair. He is a nearly all that a sure enough baby could be expected to do. This infant has a good, healthy appetite and tugs away at her milk bottle with results that are astonishing.

BRIDE OF TWO WEEKS SUICIDES.

The Husband Says It Was Purely Unintentional.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Sept. 19.—Yesterday afternoon Emmett H. Wilson ran into a doctor's office near his residence and called for assistance, saying that his wife had shot herself. When the physician accompanied him to his home he found the woman dead, a bullet from a pistol lying near her having passed through her heart.

Wilson said that he was cleaning his revolver and thought he had taken all the cartridges out. His wife asked to see the pistol and he handed it to her, at the same time throwing the cartridges into her lap. She placed the muzzle of the revolver to her heart and pulled the trigger with her thumb, and he was terrified to hear the pistol explode and see her fall to the floor. When an examination was made it was found that her clothing was powder burned, showing that she pistol had been held against her.

The couple were married just two weeks ago, and the husband says that she had no reason to commit suicide. He believes that the shooting was purely accidental. He and his wife both supposed that all the cartridges had been taken out. The coroner began an investigation immediately, but nothing was elicited to show that the death occurred contrary to the statement of the husband. The police have taken no steps in the matter, and are uncertain what to do.

The Cronin Jurors.

Four of Them Secured That Will Be Retained.

KEPT UNDER SURVEILLANCE.

Four More Found Who Will Probably Be Added to This Number—Efforts Made to Secure Woodruff's Liberty—Important Witnesses Secured by the State's Attorney.

CHICAGO, Sept. 19.—Four jurors have finally been secured to pass judgment on the five men now on trial for the murder of Dr. Cronin. They took the formal oath at 3:45 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and ten minutes later were escorted from the jury box into Judge McConnell's private room, where they will be kept under the surveillance of a bailiff until their colleagues shall have been found. The names of the jurors are John Culver, Charles Hicks, James Pearson and Frank Hall. All four are Americans.

Four new men were held for the night. Rapid progress was made in the examination of venire men during the four hours and a half the court was in session in the afternoon. The sixteenth and a portion of the seventeenth venirees were exhausted. The state used up four peremptories. The defense was credited with three. The state has now used forty and the defense six.

Mr. Brown, attorney for Woodruff, appeared before Judge Horton at 10 o'clock yesterday morning with a motion for the discharge of Woodruff from the indictment for the murder of Dr. Cronin, because he has not been brought to trial within the term prescribed by law. Judge Longenecker was present in the interest of the state. Judge Horton decided that as the case had practically gone from him on a change of venue, it would be an error for him to have anything to do with it. The motion will now be made before Judge McConnell. As Judge McConnell is sitting with Judges Tuthill and Bondage on the drainage commission there was no morning session of the Cronin trial.

The Globe says: "The state attorneys have achieved a great victory in the Cronin case and the result of their labors will place on the witness stand Le Cronin, Beach, T. J. Kirby and Patrick Conney. Conney is already in charge of the police in Chicago, and all demands of this statement are worthless. Kirby is held at Niagara. Le Cronin is in Canada, but will accompany Kirby to Chicago, and the trio will tell the whole story of the conspiracy and murder."

The latest thing in the way of startling stories in the Cronin case is the one told by Michael Whelan, formerly Connelly's partner on the police force. He says that not ten minutes after he received his notice of dismissal, a prominent Irishman offered to show him letters from across the water effectually proving the innocence of the men on trial, and telling just who killed Dr. Cronin. Who the murderer is Whelan claims not to know. He will not tell the name of the man who gave this information.

Kirby Not in Niagara.

NIAGARA, Ont., Sept. 19.—A dispatch from Chicago states that Joe Kirby, an alleged agent of the English government, was held here, and that it was intended to use him as a witness for the prosecution in the Cronin murder trial at Chicago, in connection with Le Cronin, alias Beach, who, the dispatch also states, is in Canada. The report stated that these two men were material witnesses, and that they may be, but Kirby is not held here, and he is not here and has not been seen in Niagara since last summer, and those who were intimate with him then know nothing of his present whereabouts.

AT CHATTANOOGA TENNESSEE.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Sept. 19.—Every train arriving on the various railroads yesterday morning was crowded with soldiers and visitors. There are 10,000 strangers in the city, 4,000 of them being soldiers.

The society of the Army of the Cumberland met at 10 o'clock in the morning, Gen. Harrison presiding. Reports of the various committees were received. The funds on hand were found sufficient for another year, and Gen. Harrison moved that the money collected at this meeting of the society be used towards the erection of a monument to the memory of Gen. Thomas. Carried.

Gen. Cist reported progress on the Chattanooga National park. Nothing further transpired up to 1 p. m. Various brigades held reunions in the afternoon and evening. He leaves a wife and wife children in Baltimore.

TEN THOUSAND PEOPLE DROWNED.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 19.—Japanese papers received by the steamship Gaelle place the total number of persons drowned in the floods of Aug. 30, in the city of Wakayama and in the districts of Misaki-Muro, Higashi-Muro, Nishi-Muro and Hidaka, at 10,000, and the number of persons receiving relief at 20,424. The river Kinokuni rose from thirteen to eighteen feet above its normal level, and the embankments at the village of Iwasaki were washed away. Immediately the village and about forty-eight other hamlets were covered by the raging waters.

On the morning of Aug. 19 an enormous mass of earth fell from the mountain near the village of Teinukawa, stopped the course of the river of the same name, which submerged the village and drowned nearly all the inhabitants. A number of the villagers belonging to Teinukawa took refuge in their temple, which was on high ground, but when the landslides occurred about fifty persons were buried alive.

Advices from Chemulpo, Korea, dated Aug. 10 say that the United States steamship Marion arrived to relieve the Palos, which sailed for Nagasaki, Japan, to undergo some repairs. After a three-months' cruise in Japanese waters the Palos would return to Chemulpo for the winter.

Quotations for Sept. 18.

NEW YORK.—Money 4 1/2 per cent. Currency 100, 114 bid; four coupons 125; four-months, 105 1/2 bid. The stock market opened firm with the first prices showing fractional advances in most instances. Northern Pacific was again the feature of the dealings during the first hour. It opened at 1 per cent. higher, at 77 1/2, and further advanced to 79 1/2. Ten-cent stock was also strong and advanced 1 per cent. to 47 1/2. The changes in the other stocks were confined to narrow limits, but the general tendency was upward. In the hour to noon there was a decided change in the tone of speculation, so far as Northern Pacific was concerned. It was heavily sold and its price dropped back to below the opening figures by noon. The rest of the list was weak in sympathy and declined a trifle. At this writing the market is dull.

It is about time for the annual fall joke about the iron man looking discomfited while the coal dealer smiles. Let her spring.

New York talks of erecting a monument to the late, distinguished "Sunset" Cox. Alas for Cox! If the memory of his brilliant career depended upon a monument erected by New York we fear it would soon be forgotten. New York is liberal with talk of monuments but she never erects them.

In the absence of anything more interesting the story has been brought out that the Cronin murderers were paid representatives of the English government. This looks like a very fishy story and, if the defense expect to plead this in their behalf, we immediately conclude that their case is practically hopeless.

Over in Joliet, Ill., an association offered to pay the city council $75,000 annually for the exclusive privilege of saloon business, agreed to so locate them as to be as unobjectionable as possible, to close every night at ten o'clock, remain closed all day Sundays and allow no gambling of any kind. A $200,000 bond was also offered for the faithful performance of all promises. This is a novel, and suggestive of a better saloon control. It is a trust that is commendable, for higher prices need do no harm and it gives a guarantee of semi-respectable regulation.

The latest dispatches from Samoa show that the great victory gained at Berth by our diplomatists is having its legitimate results at what was the seat of war. King Mafetua and his lieutenant, Mataafa, are in peaceful possession. Tannasese, the rebel who was supported by the Germans, and who was used by them as a figurehead in order to carry out their ambitious schemes of aggrandizement, has been notified by the German Consul that Germany is now precluded from giving support to any party on the island. As Tannasese owed whatever success he had attained to German backing, and never had the respect or allegiance of more than a very small minority of the Samoans, even with Germany as his sponsor, he will collapse very speedily.

The Ninth District Reunion.

The brigade reunion of the Ninth district G. A. R., comprising the counties of Delaware, Hardin, Knox, Morrow, Union and Marion, to be held in this city October 10th, gives promise of being an event long to be remembered in the military history of Delaware. That Delaware has been selected as the place of meeting of the gallant G. A. R. boys, and their families and friends, is a matter over which our citizens should congratulate themselves, as the reunion will bring within our borders strangers to the number of 4000 and over, besides a mighty host of G. A. R. comrades, who, of course, will be given the freedom of the city and be made heartily welcome. In the Ninth district the G. A. R. posts number about thirty with a membership of nearly, if not quite, 1000. Fully one-half this number will be present with bands of music, drum corps and colors gaily flying. The number in the parade will not fall far short of 2000, and may possibly exceed that number. Cheering reports have already been received by Capt. Curran from Union and Hardin counties, where all the posts will send full delegations, and, if the other posts respond as liberally, the indications are that our city will be filled with one of the largest crowds ever seen here.

It is the purpose of the committee to make this occasion one memorable in the history of Delaware. Reduced rates have been secured on the railroads, which, together with the central location of Delaware, should not fail to bring large crowds. Gen. Thurston and the silver-tongued orator, Gen. Wm. H. Gibson, will be positively present, besides other notable men.

Normal Notes.

Mr. Spicer, of Richwood, made the Normal a pleasant call recently.

Mr. Dyre attended examination at Mansfield last Saturday.

Prof. Yale will deliver an address before the Philomathean Society on Friday evening Sept. 20. Subject, "The teacher's general reading." All are cordially invited to attend.

A vocal class will be organized this evening under the instruction of Prof. Backles.

The indications are that the meeting and boarding facilities of the Normal will be taxed to their utmost next term. Pupils are engaging rooms ahead so as to be sure of them.

Constable Jones was called to Norris & Christian's fine kin this morning, where he captured a fellow with a bad case of jim-jams, who is supposed to be from Delaware. The fellow was locked up in the city prison for safe keeping, and it is thought medical aid will bring him about all right again in a few days.

Miss Lizzie Frasso has returned to her home at Huntington, after a two months' stay with friends in this city.

Mrs. Fred Gracely and daughter, Florence, are making an extended visit with friends at Cincinnati.

D. B. Krause was among those who took in the Capital City sights Wednesday.

N. E. Thatcher and Harry Young were among the visitors at Columbus today.

A RUNAWAY WIFE

The spouse of a Marion County Farmer
Elopes Twice With a Tramp Found and to be Prosecuted.

(Cleveland Leader.)
PITTSBURGH, Pa., September 16.—Thomas Van Dyne and his supposed wife were arrested at Beaver Falls and lodged in the Rochester jail Monday afternoon, the complaint being entered by David Ush, the real husband of the woman. David Ush is a wealthy farmer who owns a 200-acre farm in Marion county, O., about six miles from the town of Marion. In 1885 he married the handsome young daughter of a neighboring farmer of high respectability, and the couple lived happily together until the morning of the 25th of June, 1887. On that day a tramp called at the house and asked for something to eat. He gave his name as Thomas Van Dyne. He was a handsome young fellow and evidently well raised, and Ush decided to give him employment. For two years he conducted himself so well and so faithfully that he gradually became to be considered as almost a member of the family. Mr. Ush was greatly surprised when on his return from the village post-office on the morning of February 15th last he found that the tramp and Mrs. Ush had fled, taking with them a few personal effects. He followed the pair to the lake, but they had a day's start of him and they got into Ravenna, Mich., on February 26th. There they registered at the Ravenna hotel as man and wife under a fictitious name. Ush arrived a couple of days later and found the guilty wife, her passport having been found by his coming and escaped in a ship. A reconciliation was effected, Ush taking his wife back home and agreeing to forgive and forget the offense. They got along as well as before, and this state of affairs continued for about two months, but one morning Mrs. Ush again disappeared. Ush hunted for her in vain for several weeks and then wrote to Inspector McNeese and Assistant Superintendent Omar, stating the case and asking them to assist him in finding his wife. The Pittsburgh officers located the couple in Beaver Falls. They were living on Main street as Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Van Dyne. The detectives were then put to work to find out who Van Dyne was, and in a short time learned that he had formerly lived with his mother, who is well-to-do, at Racine, Meigs county, O., and that he had gotten into difficulty with a young girl at that place. After his escape from Ush at Ravenna, Van Dyne went to his mother, and then to Beaver Falls, where he began corresponding with Mrs. Ush again. The result was their coming together again. Ush got in here yesterday morning, and after a consultation with the officials he and Detective Deneen went to Beaver Falls. They found the recent wife and her lover living quietly and apparently happy.

They submitted quietly to arrest, and after being taken before a Beaver Falls magistrate were committed to Rochester jail for hearing. The police officials think that Ush cares too much for his wife to allow her to suffer, and if she will only agree to do the right thing hereafter it is likely she will be taken back and her life forgiven.

Handbills and Contentment

Happiness and Contentment
Cannot go hand in hand if we look on the dark side of every little obstacle. Nothing will so darken life and make it a burden as Dyspepsia. Acker's Dyspepsia Tablets will cure the worst form of Dyspepsia, Constipation and Indigestion, and make life a happiness and pleasure. Sold at 25 and 50 cents by H. C. Hoberman & Co.

Edison Rapids, Mich.

J. M. Lousie-Edison Co., Detroit—

Two years I was afflicted with a very severe attack of Dyspepsia. After two physicians had used their treatment for several weeks and I continued growing rapidly worse, being by this time completely blind and in their diagnosis concluded that there was no earthly hope for me.

My neighbor, Mr. Miller, came in to see me one day, and said try Lousie's Edison Rapid Red Clover. As he had known of it working remarkable cures, I told him I had lost hope, that nothing would do me any good in this world, he insisted, and taking his hat went to the drug store and bought me one bottle and urged me to try it, which I did. Ten days afterwards I sent for two more bottles and it was wonderful how I improved. I continued using it, and today I am better than I have been in years. No sign of Dyspepsia has shown itself, and I heartily recommend it to suffering humanity as the greatest and best blood purifier in existence. Yours Truly,

HENRY M. LUSIE.

N. B.—My daughter, Mrs. Bishop, of Toledo, was afflicted almost as badly and your Red Clover cured her.

Strong Nurturing Acid Applied with a Cloth.

The yolk of an egg to wipe them over with has also been recommended.

Lemon juice is a good thing for removing tan.

It is also excellent for taking stains from the hands, and applied to the hands at night will keep them soft and white.

When ready to serve a jelly or cream that has been set in a mold, set the mold in tepid water, or wrap a warm cloth about the mold for a moment.

To raise the pile of plush or velvet, dampen on the wrong side with clean, cold water, then hold tight across the face of a hot iron, and rub the crushed spot with a clean, stiff brush.

Make all kitchen aprons of muscadine, and soiled aprons an item in the weekly ironing, as it requires none. If work dresses are made of the same they need ironing only when lined.

Never wash a jelly bag, strainer cloth, pudding bag, or dumpling bag with soap.

The next thing that is put into them passed through these things will surely taste of the flavoring of alkali.

The French water ices are sometimes made with a sirup of sugar and water boiled until it forms a fine thread between the thumb and forefinger. This sirup contains four times as much sugar as water.

To make a fruit sauce that is nice for many puddings, reduce one cupful of berries to a pulp by pressing them through a sieve; add to them one cupful of sugar beaten to a cream with one cupful of butter; add the fruit juice, and lastly the beaten white of an egg. This sauce should be served directly it is made.

IRISH SUPERSTITIONS.

The pith-brogs are all charms of an evil nature.

Many truly believe the banshee to be the spirit of some former member of the family.

If a hare be met on a May morning the milk is likely to be churned from the cows.

It is very unlucky to meet in the early morning a barking dog or a barefooted woman.

If an osprey be shot along any coast all the herring and mackerel will immediately disappear.

When the starling does not follow the grazing cattle some witch charm has been put upon them.

When a corpse retains animal heat overlong, another member of the family is to die within the year.

Garments and other articles which have come in contact with the dead are very efficacious in disease.

If the stacks are not dried each night by the noiseless barn owl, a blight will fall upon that season's crops.

The magpie, as with the ancient Greeks, is a repository of the soul of an evil minded and gossiping woman.

The tongue of one who has licked a lizard over a fire has the power to extract the sting from scalds and burns.

The dead are believed to have the bitterest experience of being buried at any distance from their home, while living.

The scold warbler, known more popularly as the "Irish nightingale," is the object of a most tender superstition.

The corn-blower or "death coach" seems to stand in something the same relation to the penitentiary as the banshee.

The last one buried in a church yard is believed to do all manner of mischief to those having been previously buried.

Every twelve night the dead walk. They sit up, upon every tile of the house, waiting to be freed from purgatory by prayer.

The third pour forth the most melancholy song of all Irish birds, and I have seen honest-hearted peasants affected by it to tears.

When the nest of the thrush or mavis is built unusually high in the thorn bush, this betokens a great calamity to the neighborhood.

Great numbers of jays or missh-thrushes, feeding upon the berries of the hawthorn, betoken the approach of a very cold winter.

Every donkey in Ireland is supposed to fall on its knees at midnight on Christmas eve, and pray three times in honor of its ancient lord.

Over in Connemara to this day a funeral procession on its way to church will halt at some distance away and cast together a huge pile of stones.

One of the oddest of all Irish superstitions is the belief that if you chase and catch a butterfly you imprison the wandering soul of your grandmother.

Any child born on White Sunday or the day after is doomed to an untimely death, and it is invariably named after some particular saint to ward off the curse.

Any three little strokes of a stick in the ashes or a spindle or other form to the soil making a figure resembling a coffin is certain to portend death in one's family.

The waxing, the beautiful Incendiaris, or fire, whose breeding haunts have never yet been discovered by man, are the torches of the bean silt or beanies.

When abroad at night one never turns at the sound of footsteps behind. For there are often those of the dead hungering for human companionship, and their glance is fatal.

The fishermen of the west coast make good use of the cat. They secure favoring winds by burying it in the sands of the beach, with its head opposite the desired direction.

When a "prahon cork" or hen crow is found in the solitudes or mountain glens away from human habitations, it necessarily betokens the wandering soul of an impenitent sinner.

Persons who enter into a compact with Satan can raise wind and storms by calling him up, and these disturbances cannot be stilled save by the death of a black cock, a black dog or an unchristened child.

When water owls appear in the spring time in unusual numbers in any unfrequented locality that is a sign of abundance of fresh water fish, but also a token of the approach of malignant disease.

The most potent charm known to those given over body and soul to superstition is the hand of an unbaptized babe taken from the grave in the name of the evil one. The hand of a murderer so taken is also very powerful.

SOME USEFUL HINTS.

Ceilings that have been smoked with a kerosene lamp should be washed off with soda water.

Silver may be kept bright for months by being placed in an air tight case with a good sized piece of camphor.

Strong muriatic acid applied with a cloth, and the spot washed thoroughly with water, is recommended to remove ink stains from boards.

The yolk of an egg to wipe them over with has also been recommended.

MEN OF LETTERS.

The Grand Duke Constantine, cousin to the czar, has recently published a book of poems.

Richard L. Gallier is a promising young English poet who works in the vein of Keats in attracting attention.

William O'Brien, the Irish leader, spent his time in prison in writing a novel which he calls "When We Were Boys."

Pierre Loti, the novelist, is a Lieutenant in the French navy, and writes all of his books from notes made in his diary while on his travels.

Leonard Richardson, the editor of The New York Dramatic News, has had something like a Mark Twain development in journalism.

William Sharp, author of the latest London sensation, "Children of Tomorrow," may be fairly said to stand at the head of the present romantic revival in England.

Mr. Robert Fancillon, the novelist, is a well built man of some fifty summers, with a fair beard streaked with gray, clear blue eyes, and a somewhat nervous manner.

Andrew Lang has a most marvellous power of mental concentration in his work, and always writes in his dining room undisturbed by the family conversation around him.

Zola began life as a poor and obscure lad, employed at $20 a month in the book store of the famous publisher, Hachette, and from this he has risen to be the Chateaufort de Medan, as he is called.

George Augustus Sala, at a recent author's dinner, said that Douglas Jerrold's publisher, leaving off his drink, regretfully remarked, "I am sorry to hear Jerrold is dead, for there still were pickings on his bones."

Alfred is the title of a new Latin magazine of essays, stories, poems and sketches, begun in Italy under the editorship of Carlo A. Uffici, a brilliant young scholar who distinguished himself at Munich.

John Ruskin refers to John Strange Winter, the author of "Huckle's Baby," as "the author to whom we owe the most finished and faithful rendering ever yet given of the character of the British soldier."

Arthur C. Griscom, a clever young western writer, whose work has appeared in The Youth's Companion, Detroit Free Press and other journals, is only 20 years old, and is president of the Western Authors and Artists' club.

Francis Cooper, the French poet, who is a heavy cigarette smoker, says, "I never had any reason to attribute my indifferent health to tobacco, which I regard as a stimulant to work and to dreaming, and for the poet these two words are synonymous."

WOMAN'S WEAR.

All the softer, ruffled silk fabrics are now classed under the general head of bengaline.

Several new and pretty shades of blue and violet cashmere are shown for house dresses.

Two small reeds give the necessary contour to the dress skirt. They are never set high in the back.

The latest whim in hair dressing is to use at least six double pronged pins of as many distinct designs.

Magnolia silks, bordered with copper colored flowers, are striped with wide bands of magnolia velvet.

Armure, faith, franchise and broadness appear among the early importations of silks for the coming season.

The extreme simplicity of style modeled on the director's pattern will be popular during the coming fall season.

Black and white just now is the combination most desirable to make and worn by matron and maid alike.

A stylish Hungarian cloak, reaching from neck to skirt hem, is made of black bengaline, and lined with black and white checked silk.

Furriers say that beaver is to be one of the very fashionable furs next winter. It is a becoming fur and very desirable as a trimming for gowns and wraps.

Russian pelts in cloaks are very elegant and will prove favorites, as do all Russian models, for they always possess the effect of grace combined with comfort.

Very few, if any, of the newer designs in bonnets or hats have any decided novelty in shape. The trimmings alone give an autumn character to the new head gear.

Truly soft crepe de chine veils, with a jabot of plaiting down the front, are just now quite a la mode to wear with black costumes. They may be to the ready made in all colors.

Drop trimmings of all kinds will be worn on wraps and costumes as a graceful finish. Some of the new modes have metal threads interwoven in the silk, giving a rich and pretty effect.

Among the charming models for a young girl's outfit is one of tulle silk in creamy white, over which is an overdress of dotted Swiss muslin, on which are tiny rose buds in pink. A simple band of black velvet keeps the frill waist in place and hangs in long bows and ends at the side.

ROYAL FLUSHES.

It is stated that King Leopold of Belgium contemplates a trip to the Congo.

The two young daughters of the Prince of Wales are contributors to magazines.

The emperor of China had a comet meteorologist beheaded for making a false prediction.

The widowed Crown Princess Stephanie is about to receive the golden rose this year from the pope.

The two favorite pursuits of Princess Beatrice are riding and trying over new mazes in the form of duets.

The wedding procession of the empress of China filled 600 boxes, each of which took two men to carry. The emperor's two other wives were able to pack their apparel into 200 boxes.

Prince Albert Victor, eldest son of the Prince of Wales, will soon begin house-keeping for himself in the apartment in St. James' palace which was occupied for forty years by the late Duchess of Cambridge. All the rooms are now being redecorated for the new occupant.

The car has a new traveling train. The saloons are covered with iron outside and then come eight inches of cork instead of the steel plates with which the carriages of the old train were protected. All the saloons communicate by a covered passage, and are exactly the same in outward appearance, so that no outsider may be able to discover in which carriage the czar is travelling.

A TEMPORARY VICTORY

First Will Doubtless Be Made Permanent. The Quo Warranto Proceedings Against the Marion Water Company About Knock-out Deal.

The quo warranto suit to arrest the charter of the Marion Water company was argued in circuit court Wednesday afternoon on a demurrer by the defense, claiming insufficient cause for action.

The court announced its decision on the demurrer this morning, and sustained it. Only until tomorrow morning was allowed for filing amended petition, by plaintiff, so the case can be regarded as a very encouraging victory for Howland & Ellis.

Marion has no sympathy for these proceedings, which are due almost solely to Sam H. Bullock.

The Mattress Factory.

William Smith has completed his building south of west South street, which is now occupied by his mattress factory. Mr. Smith reports a thriving trade, both local and in other places. His city business exceeds everything which he expected, while orders are pouring in from other quarters in such numbers that it is almost impossible for him to fill them, and will make it necessary for him to employ more men. This institution promises to become one of Marion's best industries. The shipping facilities for his goods are reported equal to those of any location in the state.

Huberman-Stouffer.

The marriage of Mr. Philip Huberman and Miss Sadie Stouffer took place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Stouffer, on north East street, Wednesday evening, at 7 o'clock. Rev. D. A. Smith, of McKeesport, Pa., officiated in the marriage ceremony. About forty friends and relatives, of this city and vicinity, were present.

Mr. and Mrs. Huberman departed on the 9 o'clock train for Columbus, on a short wedding tour, where they will remain until Monday.

Prospect Monitor.

On last Thursday night when Harry Smith was coming to town he was halted in the neighborhood of the Worthing woods by some unknown party.

In order to make his escape, Smith, who was carrying a bag of money, was forced to throw it away. The money was found by some unknown party and is now in the hands of the police.

It is needless to say he came to town about as fast as his legs could carry him and seemed to be considerably excited over his experience. The country is full of tales of vagabonds tramping about from place to place that would waylay a man for a few cents if they thought it could be done without being discovered.

An interesting air ventilating device is now being tried on the Pullman cars on the Pennsylvania line. It is a substitute for wire screens and consists of a frame crossed by narrow bars, carrying rows of h. v. on bridges—these bars are preferably the hair used to admit the air freely while effectively straining it of cinders, dust and even smoke. A square frame is used in the end windows, but the usual oblong ones are used to place beneath partly closed windows on the sides of the car.

G. W. Preston, advance agent of the V. V. W. W. company, was in the city this week for that troupe's appearance here last week. The company have their own bill out of order.

Mrs. M. M. Whitmarsh and son, Walter, and Miss Jennie Wallace are at Cincinnati, where Master Wallace is having his eyes treated.
